WSDL OF V2 SERVICES COLLECTION

Executive Summary

This document is the technical specification of the web services being developed within T 3.6.2. In this phase of the VIVACE project, only the PLCS PLM Web Services are specified. The specification files are of two types – Web Services Description Language (WSDL) files and XML Schema (XSD) files. The WSDL files specify the services and the XSD files the types and messages that are being sent. The document describes the way the different defining files are structured and presents the WSDL files together with the services they specify. Both the WSDL- and XSD files are listed as hyperlinks to their physical representation.
